

Who Will Implement the Plan?

The Entire Urban Forestry Community!

The Urban Forestry Community Includes

Leaders

Entities whose core mission is urban and community forestry. At the core of the urban forestry community are urban and community forestry lead organizations whose responsibility is to "build a fire" of activity strong enough to draw people and organizations to encourage greater participation. Some of these leaders include federal, state, and local representatives; non-profits; and private sector professionals.

Allied Professionals

Entities whose mission is related to ecosystem and human health services provided by urban and community forestry, who are aware of urban and community forestry, and who either work or are willing to work with urban and community forestry. Some of these partners include universities, planning organizations, federal public health agencies, parks and recreation organizations.

Technical Support

Entities that work with trees, although urban and community forestry is not yet explicitly a part of or related to their mission. (See page 114 for a list of federal agencies that can offer technical support).

New Partners

Entities whose work intersects with urban and community forestry, although they may not yet be either aware of urban forestry or be directly connected with the field yet. New partners could be public works offices, urban design college programs, and regional planning commissions.
